An Ambience product was included in the Windows XP Media Center Edition 2007, replacing WMP's default visualization, the "BaseView", which is now known as "3D View". Ambience had been the default visualization for Windows Media Player since Windows XP Media Center Edition 2005. Because of licensing issues, the product is no longer being developed and will not receive any future updates. The most up-to-date version is Ambience 6.0.1, released in February 2008. In March 2010, Winamp began to include version 5.5.6.67 of Ambience. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 52(a); Rice v. Ford Motor Co., 88 F.3d 914, 918 (11th Cir. 1996). III. We now consider the merits of Boeing’s appeal. There are two central questions presented here: (1) whether the district court erred in not dismissing Ameritrust’s case with prejudice as a sanction for its egregious discovery abuses; and (2) whether the district court erred in not finding Ameritrust liable under the express terms of the credit agreement. A. Boeing contends that the district court erred in failing to dismiss the action with prejudice. We review a district court’s decision not to dismiss an
